State of Tennessee
Office of the Secretary of State
Nashville, Tennessee 37243

Dear Tennesseans:

I'm proud to bring you the "2004 Annual Report on Charitable Fund Raising". The report highlights the financial activities of persons who solicit charitable contributions within Tennessee and those who assist with the fund raising activities. The report also includes highlights of two major legislative initiatives undertaken in 2004 on the state and federal level that may impact your charitable giving decisions.

Legislative Update. Charitable Gaming in Tennessee: In April 2004, Governor Phil Bredesen signed into law the Tennessee Charitable Gaming Implementation Law, Tennessee Code Annotated, Sections 3-17-101 et seq.. This action followed a vote by Tennesseans in November 2000 to amend the State Constitution to allow gaming activities for the benefit of Section 501(c)(3) organizations. One month after the law was passed, the 103rd General Assembly authorized seventy-one (71) Section 501(c)(3) organizations to operate a one day gaming event during the event year beginning July 1, 2004 and ending June 30, 2005. The re-named Division of Charitable Solicitations and Gaming now registers persons who conduct charitable solicitations and gaming activities in Tennessee. Information about the new gaming law, emergency rules, a list of authorized gaming events, filing forms, and other gaming information is available at the Division's website: <http://www.tennessee.gov/sos/charity/gaming/index.htm>. Organizations authorized to operate gaming events are required to file with the Secretary of State financial reports for their gaming event. In the future, reports of those gaming events will be included in published annual reports. Car Donations (federal law): In 2004, the Internal Revenue Service published new rules regarding donation of motor vehicles, boats, or airplanes to charities. Under the tightened rules, the taxpayer can only claim as a deduction the gross proceeds from the sale of the motor vehicle, boat, or plane. Prior to the change, the taxpayer could deduct the fair market value of the contributed property. The new rules are effective January 1, 2005.

Giving Tips: Frequently, we publish information to assist our citizens in making wise giving decisions. We encourage you to ask questions when requested to make a donation and insist on receiving prompt and truthful answers. Know what the organization's mission is and how it intends to use your donation. Understand that you have a right to have your name deleted from the organization's mailing list or to insist that your name not be shared with other organizations. Increasingly, Tennessee businesses are asked to purchase advertising in publications that appear to be sponsored by a nonprofit. The vast majority of these appeals are made by professional solicitors. Know that professional solicitors are required to disclose this fact and be registered with the Secretary of State. If you have any doubts about the solicitor's claims or to confirm the caller's status, you can contact the Charitable Solicitations & Gaming Division. For more information about who is authorized to solicit funds within the state, visit our website or call our office at 615-741-2555. Finally, I encourage you to report unlawful solicitation or gaming activity by dialing the Division's toll free hotline: 1-800-861-7393.

I hope the information on the following pages will help you make wise giving decisions. I encourage you to support those organizations that openly disclose their financial activities and fulfill their stated missions. Continue to give, but give wisely!

SECTION ONE

2004 SUMMARY FINANCIAL REPORT OF CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS

Every charitable organization that intends to solicit donations from or within this State must register with the Secretary of State prior to beginning its fund raising campaign. A solicitation may include asking for money or selling items such as sponsorships, advertisements, books, food or tickets to an event. An organization registers its fund raising activities by filing a completed application with the Division of Charitable Solicitations & Gaming and paying the appropriate fee. Registered organizations have a state identification number. You should ask an organization for its state identification number whenever you are solicited for a donation. All registrations must be renewed annually. Organizations have six (6) months from the end of their fiscal year to file their renewal applications. An organization that fails to timely renew its registration application is assessed a $25.00 per month late fee for any month or portion of a month that the application is late filed. In addition to a late fee, an organization may be penalized up to $5,000 per violation for failing to register its fund raising activities.

Along with its registration application and filing fee, a charitable organization must file a financial report for its most recently completed fiscal year. The financial report must include a copy of its Form 990 on file with the Internal Revenue Service and organizations that receive in excess of $300,000 must also file an audited financial statement.

This section contains financial data that was compiled from documents filed by registered nonprofit organizations whose fiscal year ended during 2004. One focus of the report is to analyze the amount of fund raising dollars an organization spends to raise money from the public. The reader may also compare dollars spent on fund raising to dollars spent toward the organization's stated purpose(s). In all instances, the purpose in presenting these calculations and comparisons is to increase public understanding of charitable fund raising. The Secretary of State's registration files are public records and are available for you to view.

*The Secretary of State does not audit the filings information nor guarantee the accuracy of the data as filed by the registered organizations.
For more detailed information, contact the Secretary of State's Division of Charitable Solicitations & Gaming at (615) 741-2555.*

FUND BALANCE

(1) Beginning Net Fund Balance: Amount of net assets or liabilities carried forward from the previous year. Fund balances may be cash, non-cash, restricted and/or non-restricted balance sheet items. A restricted balance sheet item is not used by a charity until the requirements of the restriction have been met.

(12) Ending Net Fund Balance: Amount of net assets or net liabilities remaining at year end.

REVENUE

(2) Fund Raising Revenue: Revenue received, either directly or indirectly, from the general public, such as donations from individuals, foundations, businesses, and fund raising agencies (e.g. United Way). Public revenue includes gross receipts from fund raising activities, such as special event dinners, shows or professional solicitation campaigns.

(3) Other Revenue: Revenue that is not related to fund raising efforts, such government grants, fees received by charity for services rendered, the profit or loss on sales of assets, interest, rents, bona fide membership and affiliate dues.

(4) Total Revenue Received: Revenue from all sources received during a fiscal year.

EXPENSES

(5) Program Service Expenses: Expenses directly associated with a charity's stated purpose(s). [If a charity's stated purpose includes 'informing or educating the public about its stated cause,' the charity may allocate and include some of its fund raising expenses in the amount spent on its charitable purpose. Federal and state laws require charities to use a reasonable method for allocating fund raising expenses. Failing to properly allocate fund raising expenses may result in a distortion of the amount spent on charitable purpose(s).]*

(6) Fund Raising Expenses: Expense of raising funds from the public, such as postage, telephone, printing or professional solicitor fees. Fund raising expenses include the expense of any item sold in the name, or on behalf, of a charity.

(7) Management Expenses: Expenses associated with the overall day to day administration of the charity.

(8) Other Expenses: Expenses not related to a charity's state purpose, management or fund raising activities. Examples are payments to affiliates, unrelated business revenue expenses, and investment expenses.

(9) Total Expenses: Total expenses of a charity during its fiscal year.

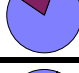

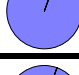

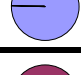

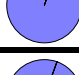

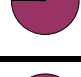

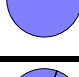

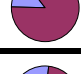

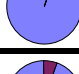

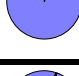

ANALYSIS

SECTION TWO

EXEMPT ORGANIZATIONS

Certain charitable organizations are exempt from registering their fund raising activities with the State. The “Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act” (Tennessee Code Annotated, §48-101-501, et seq.), provides that any organization that claims to be exempt must submit a request for exemption to the Secretary of State. Once approved, organizations retain their exempt status until a “change in circumstances” require they register with the State. This section lists the names and addresses of organizations that have been granted an exemption from registering their fund raising activities. Exemptions are granted according to the following statutory grounds:

Bona Fide Religious Organizations (ER). Include ecclesiastical or denominational organizations, churches or other established places of worship that regularly conduct religious services. Further, the organization must not be subject to federal income tax and must be exempted by the Internal Revenue Service from filing its Form 990. The exemption extends to separate groups or corporations that form an integral part of the religious organization. T.C.A. §48-101-502(a)(1).

Annual Gross Revenue From Public Less Than $30,000 (EL). To qualify, an organization must not intend to solicit and receive and does not actually raise or receive more than $30,000 from the public during its fiscal year. If the organization receives more than $30,000 during a fiscal year, it must register with the Secretary of State within thirty days after it receives this amount. T.C.A. §48-101-502(a)(2).

Volunteer Fire Departments, Rescue Squads, Local Volunteer Defense Organizations (EF). T.C.A. §48-101-502(3).

Educational Institutions (EE). An institution must be organized and operated exclusively for educational purposes. In addition, it must be accredited by a recognized accrediting agency, maintain a regular faculty and curriculum and have a regularly enrolled student body. The exemption extends to organizations composed of parents of students and other persons connected with the institution who are organized for the purpose of conducting activities to support the operation of the educational institution. T.C.A. §48-101-502(b).

Federal/Other (EQ). Congress may establish an organization and mandate annual reporting to that body. In such case, the State may not have regulatory authority over the federally-created organization. SECTION THREE

REPORT SUMMARIZING THE FINANCIAL ACTIVITIES OF CHARITABLE FUND RAISING CAMPAIGNS CONDUCTED BY PROFESSIONAL SOLICITORS

A “professional solicitor” is a person or group hired by a charitable organization to solicit donations from the public for the benefit of the charity. (Employees of a charitable organization are not considered professional solicitors.) A professional solicitor receives compensation from contributions raised for each fund raising campaign it conducts. Tennessee law requires solicitors to register with the Secretary of State before a fund raising campaign begins. Registration applications must be renewed annually on or before December 31 of each year. In addition to filing a registration application and paying a filing fee, a professional solicitor must file a $25,000 bond. The Secretary of State is authorized to use proceeds from a bond to compensate any person who may have a cause of action against a professional solicitor. Anyone who has been convicted of a felony or of violating any provision of The “Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act” is prohibited from serving as a professional solicitor or as an employee, member, officer or agent of a professional solicitor, unless such person’s civil rights have been restored by a court of law.

Both the nonprofit organization and the professional solicitor must file a written copy of their agreement with the Secretary of State prior to the commencement of a fund raising campaign. Among other things, the contract specifies the beginning and ending dates for a fund raising campaign and how the revenue from a campaign will be allocated. A fund raising campaign may extend for a period greater than one year. At the conclusion of the campaign, the solicitor has ninety days to file a financial report. The report includes the total gross revenue raised during the campaign and itemizes all expenses incurred by the solicitor during the campaign.

Prior to soliciting a charitable contribution in Tennessee, a professional solicitor must clearly and conspicuously disclose the solicitor’s company name, the fact that such person is a “professional solicitor” and that the solicitor will receive as costs, expenses and fees (commissions) a portion of the funds raised or received during the campaign.

The following report summarizes the fund raising activities conducted by registered professional solicitors on behalf, or in the name, of a charitable organization. The fund raising activities reported are from solicitation campaigns that ended during the report year. Note: In a few instances, total campaign expenses incurred by the professional solicitor and the amount the charity received may exceed the total amount raised during the campaign; or, total campaign expenses and the amount received by the charity may be less than the total amount raised. The agreement signed by the charity and solicitor may address each circumstance. Finally, a solicitor may conduct more than one campaign, or more than one type of campaign, for a charity during the year.

The Secretary of State does not audit the financial information nor guarantee the accuracy of the information reported.

Reports filed by professional solicitors are public record and available for review at the Division of Charitable Solicitations & Gaming.

For more detailed information regarding professional solicitation campaigns, please contact the Division of Charitable Solicitations & Gaming, (615) 741-2555.
